

AIOH22

ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE AND EXHIBITION
SIMPLE. SUSTAINABLE. SOLUTIONS
3-7 December 2022, Sofitel Brisbane Central

Call for Presenters

The 2022 Organising Committee is actively seeking abstracts from potential speakers, presenters and poster topics from those working in the field of occupational hygiene and allied professions. We are also interested in hearing from people outside of the occupational hygiene profession who have relevant insight to share with our audience on achieving simple, sustainable solutions for worker's health.

The benefits of presenting at the AIOH 2022 Conference include:

- Increased credibility and visibility with fellow professionals
- Contribute scientific content and disseminate knowledge
- Create opportunities for future dialogue and discussion

We want you!

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

Speakers are asked to produce technical papers for presentation during a concurrent session for 15 minutes duration with an additional 5 minutes to take questions from the audience.

SCIENTIFIC POSTERS

The conference welcomes scientific posters which are suited to reporting small studies, or for preliminary findings of projects with large data sets that are difficult to display in oral presentations.

Posters will be displayed electronically on screens in a prominent area of the venue for the duration of the conference.

CONTINUING EDUCATION SESSIONS (CES)

We are looking for half-day and full-day workshop style sessions providing attendees with a professional development opportunity.

SUBMISSIONS & FEEDBACK

Paper and poster submission must include the title of the paper, and a structured abstract of up to 250 words (aim, problem/situation, methods, results, and conclusion). Plus, bio (200 words) and head shot.

CES submissions must include the title of the CES, and a summary of up to 250 words of the CES topic, including learning outcomes. Plus, presenter/s bio (200 words) and head shot.

Details of requirements for the final paper/poster will be sent with notification of acceptance (if applicable). A written paper for inclusion in the proceedings is required for all presentations unless prior approval has been granted by the Conference & Events Manager.

Presentations will not be included in the programme if not submitted by the due date.
