THE COMMUNITY EVENT OF 2024

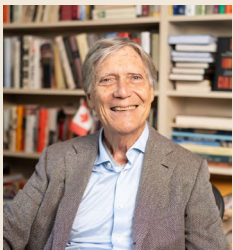

THE Psych Health and Safety Conference (PHS Con) is the first annual event by the same people who bring you the 'Psych Health and Safety podcast'.

Featuring some of the biggest names internationally and locally and hand-picked case studies, the event will bring together more than 400 people and safety professionals in-person and hundreds more virtually for a community event like no other.

Despite the size of the event, expect an intimate vibe with a focus on insightful conversations via interviews and fireside chats.

KEY THEMES

PSYCHOSOCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

With all Australian states to have WHS regulations in force, there is an ongoing need to understand what good looks like to prevent foreseeable psychological harm to workers. Hear from experts and WHS regulators.

BURNOUT: CREATING SUSTAINABLE PERFORMANCE

One of the biggest themes coming out of the Covid pandemic will be discussed by the two foremost experts on the topic sharing how organisations can move towards sustainable people performance.

THE INTEGRATED APPROACH TO WORKPLACE MENTAL HEALTH

10 years on from the landmark journal article, we have assembled the three main authors to discuss progress, including how the model has been adopted internationally by the likes of the WHO and ILO.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT PREVENTION

Following the Respect@Work report in 2020, sexual harassment prevention has moved from a purely IR issue to a clear WHS issue. Hear from experts on how to address unsafe behaviour systemically through a risk-based lens.
